Project Title: Emma Watson Website

I plan to build this site as multiple pages, rather than a long, single page website. I'm going to have navigation tab on the top. All you see is intro page, and you do not have to scroll down to see any other extra information. You'll see all the other information when you click each navigation tab individually. I'll have photos and facts about each tab.

- Home Page: This is a page where it has all the navigation tabs on the top, and her picture, but no other contents.
- About: This is a page where it introduces Emma Watson, and talks about herself in general.
- Early Life (Education): Talks about her early life in general, and her education background.
- Actor (Career): It breaks down into different periods of time, and what kinds of movies or shows she participated.
- Activist: This section talks about what kinds of human rights she is fighting for, and her role as an activist in general.
- Sources: I will list sources that I used for the content and photos, which are mostly from Wikipedia and Google images.
